

Supervisor Tekrony Will Continue Push for Common Sense MOD Regulations

On May 4th the Loudoun County Board of Supervisors (BOS) held a special meeting to discuss recommendations from the Transportation and Land Use Committee (TLUC) regarding new zoning regulations for Western Loudoun including the Mountain Overlay District (MOD).

Representatives of Friends of the Blue Ridge Mountains and many other conservation organizations attended the meeting and spoke in support of stronger zoning protections for the Mountains. Many of our supporters wore “Protect our Mountains” message tee shirts.

Supervisor Tekrony introduced a motion to require a minor special exception for all nonresidential covered activities in the Somewhat Sensitive and Sensitive areas of the Mountainside Overlay District. The motion, which was strongly supported by Friends and other conservation organizations, was seconded by Board Chair Randall.

Unfortunately, the motion was defeated by a 3 to 5 vote with Supervisors Tekrony, Randall and Turner voting in favor.

This BOS's guidance on the zoning language now goes to the Zoning Ordinance Committee (ZOC), which will hold six to eight meetings and conclude its portion of the work by December.

Supervisor TeKrony has issued a statement that she intends to continue to push for Commonsense zoning regulations in the MOD.

“Thank you to Friends of the Blue Ridge Mountains and other conservation groups for your passion and advocacy for Loudoun’s mountainside. I will continue to push for common sense regulations that protect our last areas of large contiguous swaths of forest and enable groundwater to recharge. Western Loudoun has been experiencing droughts and water supply issues making our mountainside a critical resource to protect. My motion that failed on Monday would have required a minor special exception for nonresidential uses in the sensitive and somewhat sensitive areas of the MOD to give residents a voice with public input and staff and Board additional review. As the WLRUS process continues to ZOC and the Planning Commission, please continue to stay involved and engaged. I believe it is our responsibility to protect all areas of the mountainside that residents enjoy now and for future generations.”
